(Model Policy)

Church Oversight of Child Sexual Offenders

From time to time our church may become aware that a child sex offender (CSO) is attending Sunday morning worship and/or other church activities. This special policy allows a CSO to participate in certain church activities without creating an inappropriate level of risk to children and youth in our congregation.

1. “Child sex offender” – Definition: A person will be subject to this policy when he or she fits under any of the following: (1) admits to a history of or propensity to sexually abuse children; (2) has been charged and convicted, or has otherwise admitted to child sex abuse in any court proceeding; (3) is under deferred prosecution for child sexual abuse; or (4) is otherwise determined by the elders to pose a danger to children (e.g., has been accused of child sexual abuse).
2. Conditions for participation in our church activities:
 - a. The most important condition for participation in our church activities is a humble and submissive heart attitude. This would include a willingness to be reconciled and to make restitution as appropriate.
 - b. Under no circumstance shall the CSO attend or participate in any youth activity, except as specifically authorized by the elders.
 - c. The CSO shall grant any appropriate release to the elders, an oversight team, and any other necessary church representatives for full access to any and all public and private information related to any sexual activity by the CSO, including but not limited to pre-sentencing probation reports, psycho-sexual evaluations, and treatment documents.
 - d. The CSO shall grant a release for the elders and, if appropriate, an oversight team to speak freely with the CSO’s counselor, probation or parole officer, or any other treatment provider or government official related to the CSO’s sexual offense.
 - e. The CSO shall not be permitted to attend any church function if the victim or the victim’s family is in attendance without specific authorization by the elders, the CSO’s probation or parole officer, and the CSO’s sexual treatment provider.
 - f. The CSO shall cooperate in any ongoing treatment plan, counseling, or other condition that is established by the elders.
 - g. The CSO shall submit to a Covenant agreement with our church. The Covenant may contain one or more of the following terms:¹

¹ Two examples of a confidential covenant are attached.

CONFIDENTIAL

- i. A statement of the elders' commitment to watch over the CSO as a beloved member of the flock.
- ii. A commitment to full disclosure of all matters related to the offense to anyone involved in CSO oversight.
- iii. A willingness to let the offense be known to the congregation in an appropriate manner.
- iv. Agreement to have no contact with children outside the worship service except as specifically authorized by the elders.
- v. Full compliance with probation or parole conditions.
- vi. Bathroom access will be determined on a case-by-case basis.

3. Informing our church congregants

There are a variety of biblical reasons for attendees of our church to be informed in an appropriate way that a CSO is participating in the congregational life of the church, including child safety, community protection, and pastoral care of the CSO.

- a. Any communication will be consistent with the Apostle Paul's reminder to the Corinthian church about those who formerly were caught in lifestyles of sexual sin, "And that is what some of you were. But you were washed, you were sanctified, you were justified in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ and by the Spirit of our God" (1 Cor. 6: 11).
- b. The extent and nature of any communication will be determined and led by the elders. The reach of any communication will be determined according to the pastoral needs of everyone involved and the high priority we place on caring for our children and youth by doing what is reasonable and appropriate to reduce the risk of abuse.

4. The role of an oversight team

An oversight team may be designated to provide counsel to and be a resource for the elders as requested. An oversight team is directly accountable to the elders. The team's authority is only that which is delegated by the elders.
